The Best New Year's Eve Guide Book Has Something for Every Budget

PRNewswire

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 /PRNewswire/ EMRG Media, LLC, New York's leading event planning and marketing company, announced today that they have released their best ever New Year's Eve Guide 2009 for hot events happening throughout New York City. And this year, in an effort to be environmentally-conscious and budget-minded, an e-book is available, listing parties for all budgets.

"The economy is rather grim as we move into 2009, that's why we have scouted out venues that are designed to meet all budgets," Mario Stewart, founder and co-owner of EMRG Media, LLC, says. "It's the perfect time for people to say goodbye to 2008 and look to 2009 with a feeling of hope and change. We're trying to make this possible for people by offering an array of affordable celebratory choices."

Stewart adds that this year, more than ever, he has seen people reserving tickets earlier.

"Last year, many groups ordered tickets at the last minute and paid a premium," he explains. "This year, I have already booked several groups wanting a memorable evening, without breaking the bank."

Tickets range from $75 to $500 per person and choices are varied.

Comment On This Story

"It's the perfect opportunity to check out new and trendy places that you never dreamed of," Stewart says. "And, what better time than New Year's Eve 2009?"

For instance, experience the glamour of Cipriani's -- rated New York City's number one most glamorous event for New Year's Eve 2009; ring in the New Year at the Union Square Ballroom -- New York's most exclusive VIP event space; live large at Mansion, the biggest, boldest and most bodacious New Year's Eve extravaganza in Manhattan; or cruise the New York City harbor on the Jewel Cruise -- rated New Year's Eve 2009 number premier pleasure yacht -- bright city lights, big city views and fireworks, too.

Package choices range from general admission to platinum VIP. Each level provides a different set of benefits such as complimentary passes to after-hour parties; table-side cocktail service; gourmet buffets; premium champagne and liquor; and much more.
